RAISED TABLE TRAFFIC CALMING SCHEME

Email Objection

"Thank you for the notices regarding the above.

Although we have been in email contact for some time, I'm afraid I have to lodge a formal "objection".

Whilst I appreciate the need for some sort of traffic calming and welcome the initiative we, as owners and residents of [address provided], will be by far the most negatively impacted out of all the nearby residents. We will, of course, all be positively impacted by the general intention.

Our objection is based on 2 factors arising out of the fact that the Southern end of the table along Oakley Wood Road is not sufficiently far South. I would estimate, and that is all that I can do, that the Southern edge of the table is proposed to be alongside our lounge window.

Therefore:

Firstly, traffic travelling North will create a "thump" as it rises up to the table alongside our kitchen window;

Secondly, traffic travelling South and up the hill will immediately accelerate as it leaves the hump and noise alongside our garden will therefore be commensurately increased.

My suggestion would be either to move the Southern end of the table further South, or to consider an alternative mechanism, perhaps a chicane type method as is the case in a not dissimilar situation in Barford. I suspect such a traffic inhibitor might be much cheaper than your proposal, albeit I would imagine it has been considered.

Your acknowledgment of this formal objection is kindly requested".
